CANAL+ GROUP RENEWS PREMIER LEAGUE RIGHTS IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA FOR THE NEXT THREE SEASONS

Mohammed Salah, Edouard Mendy, Eric Bailly, Wilfried Zaha, Kalidou Koulibaly, Naby Keita, Nicolas Pépé, Riyad Mahrez, Kevin de Bruyne, Harry Kane, or Erling Haaland...

The Premier League, the most popular and emblematic national championship with its stars, its mythical clubs and exciting derbies, will remain on CANAL+ in sub-Saharan Africa for three more seasons starting with the 2022/2023 season.

CANAL+ Group is pleased to have renewed a broadcasting agreement for the rights of the Premier League for the next three seasons in sub-Saharan Africa, including exclusive French language Pay-TV rights in French-speaking territories of the region. This agreement covers all 380 matches per season of the championship.

The matches will be broadcast on CANAL+ SPORT channels, as well as on the CANAL+ app, commented by the greatest CANAL+'s football experts.

Starting this Friday, August 5 at 19:00 GMT, Premier League fans in sub-Saharan Africa will be able to watch the first game of the season between Crystal Palace and Arsenal on CANAL+ SPORT 3.

With this agreement, CANAL+ Group is the proud broadcaster of the Premier League in more than 50 territories over the next three seasons, including France, Switzerland, Poland, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Vietnam and Haiti.
